

Contents

|          |                                                                              |           |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| 1 | Introduction                                                          | 1  |
| 1.1      | Three pillar approach                                                        | 1         |
| 1.2      | Solvency                                                                     | 2         |
| 1.3      | From the past to the future                                                  | 4         |
| 1.4      | Full balance sheet approach                                                  | 5         |
| 1.5      | Recent financial failures and difficulties                                   | 6         |
|      |                                                                              |           |
| 2 | Stochastic discounting                                                | 9  |
| 2.1      | Basic discrete time model                                                    | 9         |
| 2.2      | Market-consistent valuation in the basic discrete time model                 | 12        |
| 2.2.1    | Task of modelling                                                            | 15        |
| 2.2.2    | Understanding deflators                                                      | 16        |
| 2.2.3    | Toy example for deflators                                                    | 18        |
| 2.3      | Valuation at time $t > 0$                                                    | 21        |
| 2.4      | The meaning of basic reserves                                                | 24        |
| 2.5      | Equivalent martingale measures                                               | 26        |
| 2.6      | Insurance technical and financial variables                                  | 34        |
| 2.6.1    | Choice of numeraire                                                          | 34        |
| 2.6.2    | Probability distortion                                                       | 36        |
| 2.7      | Conclusions on Chapter 2                                                     | 42        |
|      |                                                                              |           |
| 3 | Valuation portfolio in life insurance                                 | 43 |
| 3.1      | Deterministic life insurance model                                           | 43        |
| 3.2      | Valuation portfolio for the deterministic life insurance model               | 44        |
| 3.3      | General valuation procedure for deterministic insurance technical risks      | 46        |
| 3.4      | Self-financing property of the VaPo (deterministic insurance technical risk) | 48        |

|          |                                                                                                       |           |
|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| 3.5      | VaPo protected against insurance technical risks . . . . .                                            | 49        |
| 3.5.1    | Construction of the VaPo protected against insurancetechnical risks . . . . .                     | 50        |
| 3.5.2    | Probability distortion of life tables . . . . .                                                       | 54        |
| 3.6      | Back to the basic model . . . . .                                                                     | 56        |
| 3.7      | Approximate valuation portfolio . . . . .                                                             | 59        |
| 3.8      | Conclusions on Chapter 3 . . . . .                                                                    | 63        |
| 3.9      | Examples . . . . .                                                                                    | 63        |
| 4 | Financial risks . . . . .                                                                      | 69 |
| 4.1      | Asset and liability management . . . . .                                                              | 69        |
| 4.2      | Procedure to control financial risks . . . . .                                                        | 72        |
| 4.3      | Financial modelling . . . . .                                                                         | 73        |
| 4.3.1    | Stochastic discounting of financial variables . . . . .                                               | 73        |
| 4.3.2    | Modelling Margrabe options . . . . .                                                                  | 75        |
| 4.3.3    | Conclusions . . . . .                                                                                 | 77        |
| 4.4      | Pricing Margrabe options . . . . .                                                                    | 77        |
| 4.4.1    | Pricing using Esscher transforms . . . . .                                                            | 78        |
| 4.4.2    | Application of the Esscher transform to themulti-dimensional Wiener process . . . . .             | 81        |
| 4.4.3    | Hedging Margrabe options . . . . .                                                                    | 84        |
| 4.4.4    | Target capital . . . . .                                                                              | 86        |
| 5 | Valuation portfolio in non-life insurance . . . . .                                            | 89 |
| 5.1      | Introduction . . . . .                                                                                | 89        |
| 5.2      | Construction of the VaPo in non-life insurance . . . . .                                              | 93        |
| 5.3      | VaPo protected against insurance technical risks, pragmaticapproach . . . . .                     | 95        |
| 5.4      | VaPo protected against insurance technical risks, theoreticalconsiderations . . . . .             | 97        |
| 5.5      | Loss development triangles . . . . .                                                                  | 101       |
| 5.5.1    | Definitions . . . . .                                                                                 | 101       |
| 5.5.2    | Chain-ladder method . . . . .                                                                         | 104       |
| 5.5.3    | Estimation of insurance technical risks in thechain-ladder model, single accident years . . . . . | 112       |
| 5.5.4    | Aggregation of parameter estimation errors acrossdifferent accident years . . . . .               | 123       |
| 5.6      | Unallocated loss adjustment expenses . . . . .                                                        | 129       |
| 5.6.1    | Motivation . . . . .                                                                                  | 129       |
| 5.6.2    | Pure claims payments . . . . .                                                                        | 129       |
| 5.6.3    | ULAE charges . . . . .                                                                                | 130       |
| 5.6.4    | New York-method . . . . .                                                                             | 131       |
| 5.6.5    | Example . . . . .                                                                                     | 135       |
| 5.7      | Conclusions on the non-life VaPo . . . . .                                                            | 136       |

|          |                                                                                       |     |
|----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 6 | Selected Topics .....                                                          | 139 |
| 6.1      | Sources of losses and profits, profit sharing.....                                    | 139 |
| 6.2      | Remarks on the self-financing property of the insurancetechnical liabilities..... | 142 |
| 6.3      | Claims development result in non-life insurance .....                                 | 144 |
| 6.4      | Legal quote in life insurance .....                                                   | 145 |
|          | References .....                                                               | 149 |
|          | Index .....                                                                    | 155 |