List of Maps, Sketches, and Figures ........................................... ix
Foreword by Hew Strachan ..................................................... xiii
Acknowledgements ................................................................. xxi
Introduction ............................................................................... xxv
A Note on the Translation and Sources ................................... xxxix

PART I: WINTER AND SPRING

1. The Question of the War's Centre of Gravity in January .......... 3
2. The Western Front to the Middle of April ............................. 21
   Decision Making at the OHL ............................................... 21
   Operations on the Western Front to the Middle of February ..... 26
      The Battle of Soissons ...................................................... 27
      Seventh Army .................................................................. 32
      The Winter Battle in the Champagne ................................. 34
      Fifth Army ...................................................................... 39
   The French and British High Commands at the Beginning of the Year ......................................................... 43
   The Apex of the Winter Battle in the Champagne from the Middle of February to the Middle of March ......................... 48
      French Intentions in the Champagne .................................. 48
      The German Defence ....................................................... 50
   Operations on the Remainder of the Western Front from the Middle of February to the Middle of March ................................. 61
      The Battle at Neuve Chapelle ............................................ 64
      Armee-Abteilung Strantz .................................................. 68
The OHL’s Return to the Western Front .......................... 70
The Defensive Battles from the Middle of March to the Middle of April ...................................................................... 71
Armee-Abteilung Strantz .............................................. 74
3. The Change in Falkenhayn’s Plans ................................. 81
The Creation of a New GHQ Reserve ................................. 83
The Plan to Mount a Decisive Breakthrough Operation in the West ................................................................. 89
The Political Situation’s Influence on Military Decision Making ... 105
To the Dardanelles Offensive ............................................ 105
To the Employment of the GHQ Reserve in the East ............... 117

PART II: SPRING AND SUMMER

4. The General Situation of the Central Powers in May .......... 133
The Intervention of Italy .................................................. 134
The Worsening of the Economic Situation and the Decision to Make Economic Warfare by Submarine ....................... 144
The Manpower and Ammunition Situation to the End of the Year .... 148

5. The Western Front from the Middle of April to the Beginning of August ...................................................................... 155
Operations to the Start of the Spring Battle at the Beginning of May ....................................................................... 155
The OHL and the Western Army in April ............................. 155
Fourth Army’s Gas Attack by at Ypres ............................... 156
The Offensive Battles of Armee-Abteilungen Strantz and Gaede .... 159
The Actions of the French and British Commanders to the Beginning of May .......................................................... 171
The Beginning of the Spring Offensive in the Artois .............. 175
Sixth Army’s Operations, 9–14 May .................................... 177
General Lochow’s Assumption of Command on the Main Battle
Front and Operations to the Middle of June ....................... 188
Operations of the Remaining Armies on the Western Front from the Middle of May to the End of July ......................... 196
The Renewal of the Major Offensive in the Artois: Operations from 16–18 June to the End of the Spring Offensive ............... 202
Reflections on the Spring Offensive in the Artois .................. 211
The Reorganization of the Western Army at the Beginning of August ..................................................................... 215
6. OVERVIEW OF THE MULTI-FRONT WAR DURING THE SUMMER 219
   The General Situation to the Beginning of August 220
   The OHL's Peace Efforts 225
Shifting the War's Centre of Gravity 230

PART III: SUMMER AND AUTUMN

7. OVERVIEW OF THE MILITARY SITUATION TO THE MIDDLE OF SEPTEMBER 237
8. THE WESTERN FRONT FROM MID-AUGUST TO THE BEGINNING OF THE AUTUMN OFFENSIVE 241
   The Enemy's Situation and Plans in the Summer 241
   The Situation at the OHL to 22 September 250
   The Events on the Western Front to 22 September 257
      In the Artois 257
      In the Champagne 261
      On the Remainder of the Western Front 268

9. THE AUTUMN OFFENSIVE IN THE ARTOIS AND CHAMPAGNE 275
   Preparations for the Battle, 22-24 September 275
      In the Artois 275
      In the Champagne 279
   The Situation at the OHL until Noon on 25 September 283
25 September 286
      The Attack in the Artois 286
      The Attack in the Champagne 292
      Actions of the OHL on the Afternoon of 25 September 299
26 September 300
   In the Artois 300
   In the Champagne 302
   The Situation at the OHL 304
   The Further Course of the Battle to the End of September 305
      In the Artois 305
      In the Champagne 308
   The Situation at the OHL at the Beginning of October 311
   The Renewal of the Offensive in October 312
      In the Artois: Operations, 30 September-10 October 312
      In the Artois: Operations, 11-13 October 317
      In the Champagne: Operations, 30 September-5 October 320
      In the Champagne: New Major Offensive Operations after 6 October 324
Sketch 7. The Battle for the Combres Heights, February–April 1915 ........ 62
Sketch 8. The Battle at Neuve Chapelle: The Situation on 10 March ........ 65
Sketch 10. The Offensive Battles of Armee-Abteilung Strantz, 24 April to 7 May ................................................................. 170
Sketch 11. The Spring Battle in Artois: The Situation on 9 May .......... 172
Sketch 12. The Spring Battle in Artois: The Initial Objectives of the Enemy's Attacks ............................................................... 176
Sketch 13. The Spring Battle in Artois: The British Attack on 9 May .... 178
Sketch 14. The Spring Battle in Artois: The German Positions between Angres and St. Laurent on 12 May ................................. 189
Sketch 15. The Spring Battle in Artois: The Situation of Sixth Army on 15 May ................................................................. 192
Sketch 16. The Spring Battle in Artois: The Artillery Dispositions in Mid-May ................................................................. 197
Sketch 17. The Spring Battle in Artois: The Situation on 16 June .... 203
Sketch 18. The Spring Battle in Artois: The Composition of Armee-Gruppe Lochow at Its Dissolution on 29 June ......................... 212
Sketch 19. The Situation of Armee-Abteilung Strantz at the End of 1915 ........................................................................ 269
Sketch 20. The Autumn Battle in Artois: The Situation on 25 September 1915 ................................................................. 272
Sketch 21. The Autumn Battle in Champagne: The Situation on 25 September 1915 ................................................................. 280
Sketch 22. The Autumn Battle in Artois: The Situation between Souchez and Neuville St. Vaast at the Beginning of the French Offensive ........................................................................ 287
Sketch 23. The Autumn Battle in Artois: The German Positions Northwest of Hulloch ................................................................. 293
Sketch 24. The Autumn Battle in Artois: The German Attack at Loos on 8 October 1915 ................................................................. 313
Sketch 25. The Autumn Battle in Artois: The French Attack on 11 October and the British Attack on 13 October 1915 .......................... 318
Sketch 26. The Autumn Battle in Champagne: The Situation on 5 October 1915 ................................................................. 321
Sketch 27. The Autumn Battle in Champagne: The Situation on 14 October 1915 ................................................................. 325
Sketch 28. The Autumn Battle in Champagne: Situation Maps—
23 October and 21 November 1915 ........................................ 330
Sketch 29. The Autumn Battle in Champagne: The Situation South of St. Souplet on 12 October 1915 ........................................... 332
Sketch 30. The Autumn Battle in Champagne: The German Attack at Tahure on 30 October 1915 ............................................... 338
Sketch 31. The Situation in the Vosges at the End of 1915 .............. 345

Figure I. Munitions Trains Sent to the Field Army—May to
December 1915 ................................................................. 152
Figure II. Munitions Trains Required by the Field Army—May to
December 1915 ................................................................. 153
Figure III. GHQ Reserves Made Available by the Order of 20 October ... 347
Figure IV: GHQ Reserves—Western Front, December 1915 ............. 364