Table of Contents

Preface — vii

Introduction — 1

Chapter 1
Elucidating Identity and Alterity — 4
Views on Identity — 4
Identity: A Fictitious Story? — 10
“Othering” as Openness of the I — 12
Self-Creation or Created Self? — 12
The Two Sides of the Self — 14
A Forgotten Horizon — 16

The Problem of Identity in Dialogical Philosophy

Chapter 2
“l-you” and “Eternal You” in the Thought of Martin Buber — 23
I and Ego, Person and Self-Being — 23
l-you and l-it — 25
Passage From l-you To l-it — 26
Hesitation — 28
Inter-Subjectivity and Presence, Will and Grace — 31
The Eternal You — 32
Revelation and Religions — 34
What is Man? — 39
Judaism and Zionism: Dialogical Realities — 42
Zionism as Utopia — 44
Judaism and Christianity — 45

Chapter 3
Franz Rosenzweig’s Animated I or “Soul” — 48
The Centrality of Relationships — 49
Individual and Collective Identities — 49
Inclusive Thinking: Judaism and Christianity — 51
The Question of Truth — 53
Gritli and Franz: An Example of Dialogical Life — 54
Table of Contents

Chapter 1

- The Tragic I — 56
- The Transformation of the Tragic Self into a Beloved and Loving I — 58
- Speech and Human and Divine Love — 59
- Death, Love and Light — 61
- Between Self and Soul — 62
- The Other in the Self, Identity Surprised by Exteriority and Alterity — 64
- Turning to the World: The Process of Redemption — 66
- The I Beyond Itself in the “We” and “Trans-Difference” — 67
- The New Law as Linking Communities — 67
- Rosenzweig’s Lehrhaus as Dialogical Enterprise — 69
- The “New” Law and the Lehrhaus — 76
- The House of Study and Speech Thinking — 78
- Translating as an Act of Peace — 79
- Self, “Self-Transcendence” and “Trans-Difference” — 83

Chapter 4

- The I as “Homo Sympatheticus” in Abraham Joshua Heschel — 85
  - The I as Concern for the Non-I — 86
  - The I and the Ineffable — 86
  - The Prophetic I — 88
  - Heschel’s Own I — 89
  - The Sympathetic I — 90
  - The “Mystery of the Self”: On the Conversion of Needs — 91
  - The Compassionate I, Judaism and the World — 93
  - Human Dignity — 94

Chapter 5

- Franz Fischer’s “Proflective” Thought on the I — 98
  - Selfless Existence — 99
  - Proflective Philosophy — 100
  - Proligion Instead of Religion — 102
  - Xenology — 103
  - Fischer and Buber on the Other — 104
  - Specificity of the Self versus Selflessness — 104
  - Christianity as Hospitality — 105
Chapter 6
Emmanuel Levinas's “One-For-the-Other” — 106
The I as Agent or as Called — 107
Buber and Levinas — 109
Self-Transcendence in Fecundity — 110
Death and Time — 111
Rosenzweig and Levinas — 113
Society and Ethics — 114
Limitless Freedom and Difficult Freedom — 115
Reason and Pre-Conceptual Demands — 116
Goodness Beyond Systems — 116
Rights of the Other Man and Rights of Man — 117
Heschel and Levinas — 118
Judaism as Category of Being — 119
Hebrew Identity as Fraternity — 120
Jewish Education and Anti-Humanism — 121
Jewish Suffering and Jewish Anti-Totalitarianism — 122
Talmud Torah — 124
Judaism and Rationality, Recognition and Cognition — 126
Building Blocks — 128

Self-Transcendence, Self-Difference, and Trans-Difference.
Philosophical and Theological Considerations

Chapter 7
The Non-Identical I — 133
Radical Difference — 135
Trans-Difference — 137
Avoiding Extreme Assimilation and Extreme Dissimilation — 137
Different Kinds of Trans-Difference — 138
The Case of the Convert — 140
Transcending the Self — 142
The Ethical Dimension of the Self — 144
To Do the Good for its own Sake or not for its own Sake — 146
Nomadic Existence in Self-Difference — 148
Either Post-Difference or “Inbetweenness” — 151
The Theater of Identity — 152
Judaism Otherwise — 153
Jewish Particularity — 156
Table of Contents

Converted Thoughts — 159
Conversion and Conversation — 161
Religious Identity, the Past and the Future, the Same and the Other — 162
Other-Oriented and World-Oriented Religion — 163
Religious Pluralism — 165
The Dialogical Self and Intercultural Communication — 167
Beyond Relativism and Absolutism — 170
Dialogue Beyond Identity — 171
The Challenge of Meta-Identical Religiosity for Conflict Resolution — 174
Religious Violence — 177
Self-Narrative and Narrative of the Other — 178
Reflection, Turning and the Search for the Deeper Self — 181

Chapter 8
The Interpreted and Interpreting I — 183
The Idea of Election or the I as Interpreted by the Other — 184
The I in Travail with the Other — 185
Loving the Other — 188
Global Consciousness versus Universal Consciousness — 189
Jewish Alterity and Larger Society: Dissimilation in Assimilation — 191
Jews, “jews” and the Law — 193
Lessing and Beyond, Unity and Diversity — 194
Dialogical Hermeneutics — 200
The New Dialogue Between Secularism and Religion — 206
Reinterpreting Traditional Religious Concepts — 208
Interaction Between Religion and Secular Modernity — 211
Combining Libraries versus the All-Encompassing Library of Babel — 212
One Voice and a Multitude of Books — 215
Combining Cultures and Sharing God’s Care for the Human Being — 218
Love God With All Your Heart — 221
Interpreting With the Other in Mind — 222

Bibliography — 224

Index of Names — 231