Contents

1 Introduction .................................................................................................................. 1
References ......................................................................................................................... 4

2 The Road to the Common European Asylum System:
From Amsterdam to Lisbon and Beyond ........................................................................ 5
  2.1 Harmonization in Asylum and, Sovereignty as an Essentially Contested Concept .................................................................................................................. 5
    2.1.1 Refugee Protection and International Refugee Law in the EU ...................................................... 10
    2.1.2 The Treaty of Amsterdam, EU Competence and Asylum ......................................................... 13
    2.1.3 Key Changes to the Legal Framework since the Treaty of Lisbon ............................................ 21
    2.1.4 The Significance of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and Freedoms in Strengthening Protection Seekers’ Rights ................................................................. 26
    2.1.5 From “Minimum” to “More Favourable Standards” to “Common”: Where Do We Draw the Line? ................................................. 29
References ......................................................................................................................... 32

3 Recasting of Asylum Legislation: Nolens leges mutari! ............................................ 39
  3.1 The Dublin III Regulation: (Still) in Search of a Dialogue Between Burden Sharing, Mutual Trust and Guarantee of Non-refoulment ......................................................... 39
  3.2 The New Qualification Directive: Who is the New Refugee? ........................................ 50
  3.3 The Recasting of the Asylum Procedures Directive: Effective, Fair…or Neither? ................................................................. 55
  3.4 The Revised Reception Conditions Directive: Towards More Harmonized and Dignified Standards of Living? ................................................................. 62
  3.5 Challenges to Harmonization: The Absence of a True Dialectic Between a Rights-Based Approach and a Migration Control-Based Approach ........................................ 69
References ......................................................................................................................... 70
4 The Role of the European Courts in Ensuring Adequate Standards of Asylum-Seekers’ Human Rights’ Protection in Europe After Lisbon ................................................................. 77
  4.1 The European Court of Human Rights and the European Court of Justice as “Regional Refugee Law Courts” ................................. 77
  4.2 The European Court of Human Rights and Asylum ......................... 79
  4.3 The European Court of Justice and Asylum ........................................ 87
  4.4 Reflecting on the Role of the European Courts in the Protection of Asylum-Seekers’ Human Rights ................................. 99
References ....................................................................................... 101

5 CEAS, Asylum-Seekers and EU Human Rights Post-Lisbon: Closing the Gaps in the European Protection Regime ............................. 105
References ....................................................................................... 110