Contents

Foreword ix
Preface xi
Acknowledgments xii
Contributors xiii

1. The Anatomy and Physiology of the Neck 1
   Philip J. Miller, Richard A. Zoumalan, and Michael A. Carron

2. Evaluation of the Anatomy and Aging-Related Changes of the Neck 13
   Christopher K. Kolstad and Jonathan M. Sykes

3. The Aging Neck: Patient Consultation, Physical Findings, and Selection of Rejuvenation Technique 21
   Harry Mittelman and Gregory J. Vipond

4. Preoperative Patient Evaluation 43
   Richard D. Gentile

   Richard D. Gentile

6. Imbrication, Plication, and Wide Undermining Techniques 82
   Mark M. Beaty

7. Liposculpture of the Head and Neck 92
   James C. Alex

8. Variations in Platysmaplasty: Pursestrings, Slings, and Nonabsorbable and Bioabsorbable Structural Techniques 105
   Richard D. Gentile
Contents

9. Direct-Excision Techniques ................................................................. 113
   Edward H. Farrior

10. Techniques for the Difficult Neck ....................................................... 122
    M. Sean Freeman

11. Complications and Sequelae of Rejuvenation Surgery of the Neck ............. 137
    Neil A. Gordon and Richard D. Gentile

    Rejuvenation of the Aging Neck ........................................................... 146
    Richard D. Gentile

Index ............................................................................................................ 175